

PASE BULLETIN No. 1 - ACCOMMODATIONS

Accommodations will be at the Captain Cook Hotel. The hotel is convenient to the island's jetport, operated by an English-speaking staff, and nestled within sight and earshot of the island's barrier reef. The hotel's 24 modern, simple but pleasantly decorated rooms offer air conditioning. They are all on one floor and open onto a courtyard facing the beach. Each room has a small refrigerator and private bathroom, which includes a stall shower heated by solar energy.

There are also twenty thatch-roofed cottages with all conveniences, situated beachward from the main facility. The dining has ample portions of a variety of hearty meals as well as some exotic dishes and fresh, local seafood. Meats and vegetables are flown in from Hawaii. Groups are treated to a weekly outdoor luau, featuring fresh lobsters, complete with traditional native singing and dancing. The comfortable Frigate Bar in the hotel or the open-air Maneaba on the beach are always well-stocked, and the informal atmosphere couldn't be better.
